

Levanta Renewables expands presence in Thailand with acquisition of 91 MWp+ operating solar portfolio

SINGAPORE, 23 OCTOBER 2025 - Levanta Renewables (Levanta), Actis' pan-Southeast Asia renewable energy platform, has completed the acquisition of a fully operational 91 MWp+ ground-mounted solar portfolio in Thailand.

Spanning across ten sites in the Suphanburi and Kanchanaburi provinces, the portfolio generates approximately 155 GWh of renewable electricity annually for the Provincial Electricity Authority (PEA) under long-term Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs).

Pramod Singh, Chief Executive Officer of Levanta, commented, "This acquisition marks a key milestone in Levanta's growth in Thailand and reinforces our commitment to supporting the country's renewable energy ambitions. It reflects our vision to build a cleaner, more resilient energy future for the region."

Pankaj Sakhuja, Chief Investment Officer of Levanta, added, "This acquisition highlights Levanta's disciplined approach to sustainable growth across Southeast Asia. We continue to invest in projects that deliver strong commercial outcomes while contributing meaningfully to the region's low-carbon transition."

Rahul Agrawal, Managing Director, Energy Infrastructure at Actis and the Head of Energy Infrastructure for SE Asia, stated "We are proud to support Levanta Renewables in this landmark acquisition, which underscores our shared confidence in Thailand's growing clean energy sector. This investment embodies our belief that sustainability and long-term value creation can progress together."

The acquisition underscores Levanta's disciplined growth strategy in Southeast Asia, enhancing its operational platform and contributing to Thailand's clean energy goals, while progressing towards its 1.5 GW capacity ambition across the region.
